

TXMD 2200 – History of Fashion students visited the Oaklands Mansion Wedding Dresses through the Decades exhibit. This allowed students to be involved in a “living history” experience through experiential learning about historic fashion as well as the conservation/preservation of historic garments. Students were required to select five garments from different eras, and write a summary about those gowns, including design detail, wearer and time period.

