Physical Description: 0.9 linear feet housed in 1 box

Restrictions: All materials in this collection are subject to standard national and international copyright laws. Center staff are also able to assist with copyright questions for this material.

Provenance and Acquisition Information: A member of the College of Media and Entertainment Dean’s Office brought this collection to the Center for Popular Music on January 17, 2019. The materials in this collection were found in CME Room 104 while staff were cleaning out the room.

Arrangement: The original arrangement scheme for the scrapbook was maintained during processing where possible. Some items were organized and moved for ease of access where no apparent organization was available.

Subject/Index Terms: ARMS, Association of Recording Management Students, MTSU Student Organizations, MTSU College of Media & Entertainment
Agency History/Biographical Sketch:
The Association of Recording Management Students (ARMS) was a student organization on MTSU campus that allowed students to work closely with industry organizations such as the Country Music Association, the Organization of Country Radio Broadcasters, and the Nashville Entertainment Association. ARMS members were able to aid these organizations with their national seminars and programs held annually in Nashville. ARMS was created in 1974 to facilitate interactions between Recording Industry students and the professional music industry.

Scope and Content:
This collection includes a scrapbook focusing on the MTSU student organization ARMS, which stands for the Association of Recording Management Students. It is unknown who created the scrapbook and when, but there are dated photographs and letters on the scrapbook. There are some materials that came in the same donation that were separated from the scrapbook, but none of these materials relate to the scrapbook.

Collection Contents (Folder/Box List):
